

Green Building Technologies

Environmental Impact

This study assesses environmental impacts and sustainability measures related to green building technologies.

Research Methodology

Comprehensive research methods and data collection procedures are described.

Findings and Recommendations

Research findings and policy recommendations are presented.